HYDROTHERAPY

Grab your bathrobes: Bowfield Hotel & Country Club is due to open a new outdoor hydrotherapy spa on 4th April. The spa won’t just be your run-of-the-mill hot tub, however; it will be covered by a solid oak pavilion, and a stunning Italian chandelier will hang from the overhead canopy. The opening will be the latest addition to the leisure facilities at Bowfield, which also include a state-of-the-art gym and a swimming pool. If you can’t wait till your wedding to take a dip, why not head there for your hen party? www.bowfieldhotel.co.uk

Now, here’s a love story. When Pauline and Guy Lyons married five years ago, Guy had lung cancer and had been given just 16 months to live; he was extremely ill and had to go to bed shortly after the ceremony. Though he soon went into remission, Guy unfortunately suffered a stroke while on holiday in Belfast last year, and had to receive life-saving treatment not available in Scotland. Aware of how lucky they had been, the couple renewed their vows at Boclair House for their five-year anniversary and raised £1,000 to be split equally between Beatson Cancer Charity and Chest Heart and Stroke Scotland. Congratulations! www.boclairhousehotel.co.uk

SUITE SPOT

Recently renovated, the Robert Adam Suite at Trades Hall in Glasgow could be a fantastic space for your wedding. Split over two levels, the bright room is decked out with stunning wooden floors and chandeliers. It can even fit a bar area if required, giving you the freedom to explore options for your big day. The suite can also accommodate up to 150 guests, so social butterflies apply within. www.tradeshallglasgow.co.uk

Weddings are going underground... literally. New subterranean events space The White Box, nestled beneath So L.A. in Glasgow, is open to couples who want to put their own stamp on a venue. The team will work with you to create something bespoke, and you can have the day catered by the restaurant upstairs if you so wish. A cool urban venue and yummy Californian fare? We’re sold. www.salaglasgow.com/white-box
